

CORPORATE HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

Alcristal is a company dedicated to the manufacturing, assembly and installation of aluminum carpentry among other materials for architectural projects.

Alcristal's employer, legally represented by architect Douglas Duran, agrees to grant technical, technological, financial and human resources to the work performed on each job in order to support any work activity through a Management System for Occupational Safety and Health which declares the following policy:

Establish and maintain a system of preventive management in the workplace to facilitate the ongoing identification of occupational risk factors and manage their elimination, reduction or control, helping to avoid incidents, accidents or illnesses in workers.

By applying what they learn from training and continuously improving, each of our employees should contribute to the maintenance of a safe and environmentally friendly workplace.

Comply with the legal technical regulations applicable to our business.

Comply with, update and periodically revise this policy as it pertains to all interested parties.
